

What are your Dreams
Trying to Tell You?

Dream Workshop

for Health & Wholeness

Would you like to understand more about your dreams to see how they can help improve your health and wholeness? If so, join us for an afternoon of dream discovery as we explore dreams in search of deeper meanings. Jeremy Taylor, an international dream expert, states "each one of us is uniquely blind to the deeper meanings of our own dreams, and dream work helps us see what amazing gifts are there, just below the surface". You will get the opportunity to be with other people to explore and interpret each other's dreams using six basic dream work tools to facilitate awareness and healthy insights. It is amazing what you will learn. It may even surprise you!
